Ukraine

St. Sophie Cathedral

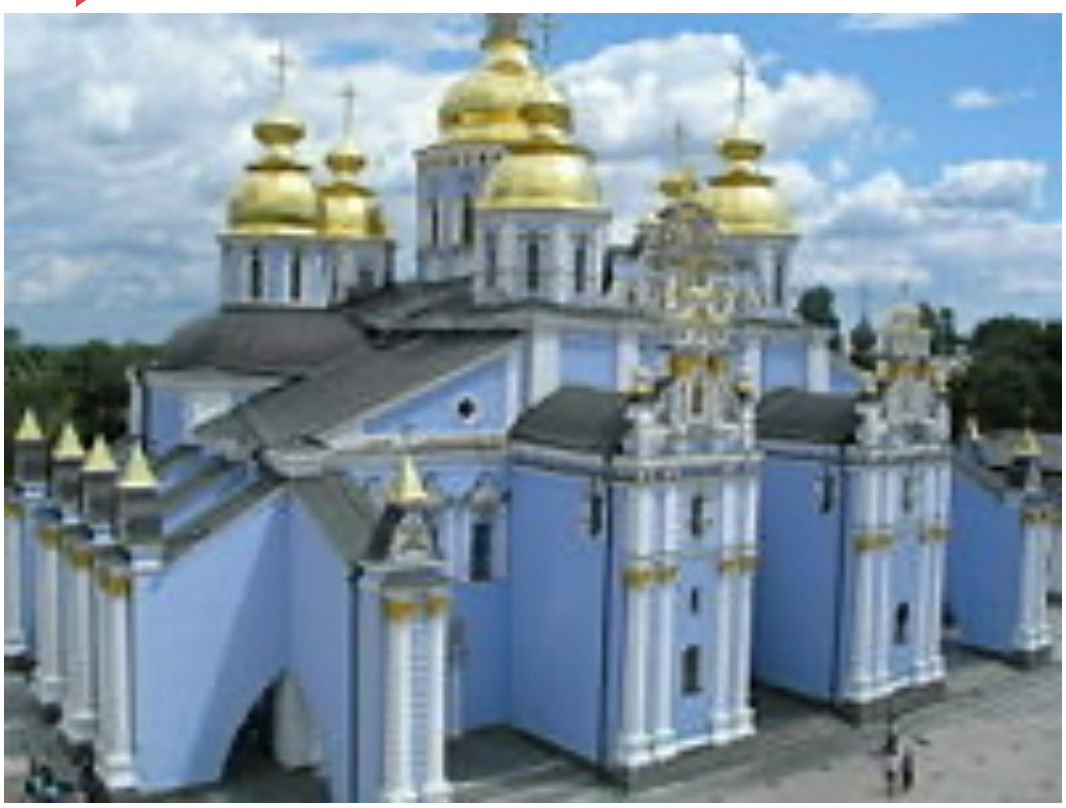

Population: 44,13 million
Religion: 70% Orthodox
Capital: Kiev

Ukraine is a state of the Eastern Europe. To the South it borders with Romania and has an outlet on the Black sea and on the Azov sea ; to the East with Russia, to the North with Belarus, and to the West it with Poland,Slovakia, and Hungary. Ukraine is popular for its orthodox cathedrals;Kiev stands the dome of the cathedral of Saint Sofia

Monuments

St. Sophia Cathedral

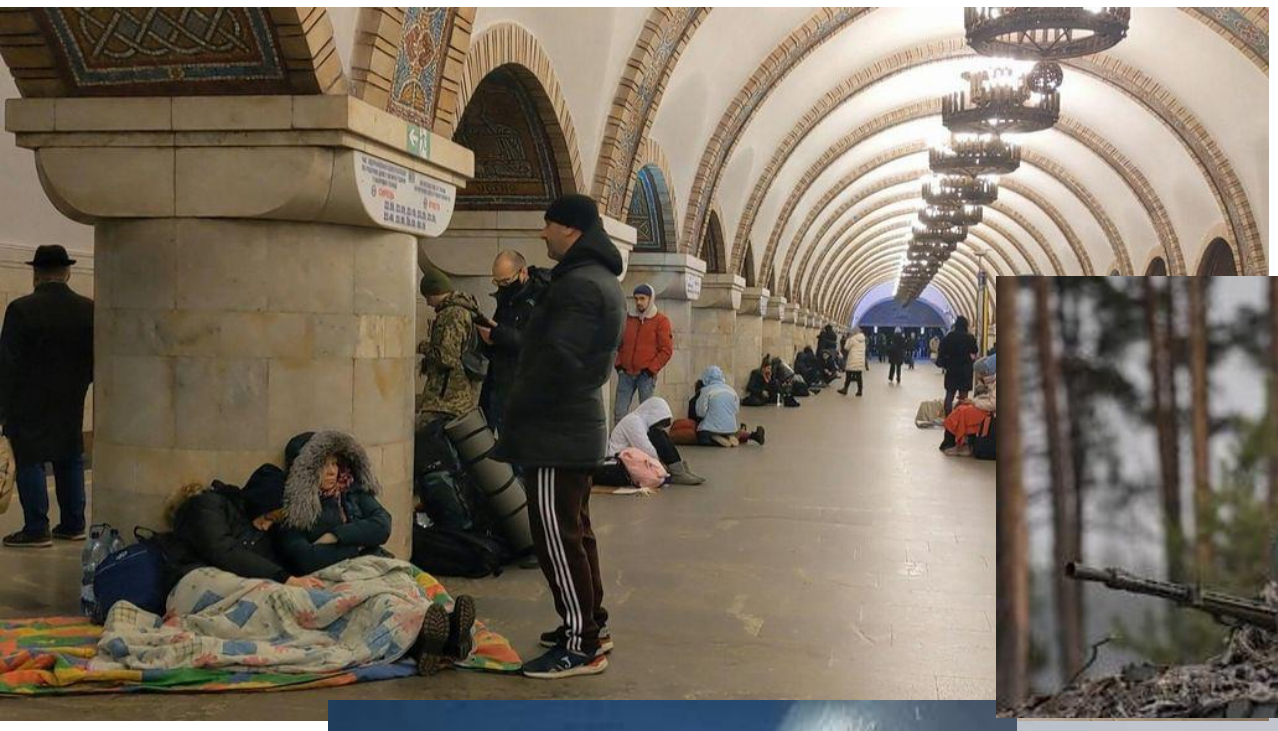

The statue of independence

The statue of the motherland

War

The Russian invasion of Ukraine in 2022, more commonly referred to as the "War in Ukraine", is a war that began on February 24, 2022, when Putin's Russia invaded Zelensky's Ukraine. This is the largest war in Europe since World War II, involving many NATO countries, but it still remains an international conflict

Food

Ukrainian cuisine is an integral part of Ukrainian culture and is reflected in the lifestyle and customs of all Ukrainians. It is particularly recognized for the great variety of flavors and the diversity of ingredients used. Ukrainian cuisine in particular has given gastronomic influence to Russian and Polish cuisine. The ingredients of popular cuisine are mostly mushrooms, vegetables, beets, fruits and various types of herbs. Some dishes are among the simplest to prepare. Numerous ingredients are used, which most of the time have very contrasting flavors, with combinations that in cultures might seem risky, but despite the diversity of flavors, the result is excellent. Considered the basket of Europe, due to its large production of wheat, in Ukraine bread is produced in various ways and also used during religious rites. Honey-coated cakes and desserts are also very popular. Given the great hospitality of the Ukrainians, the dishes are generally served in abundant quantities.

Sport

Ukraine is currently developing national sports inspired for example by Cossack fights, "combat hopak", "spas" (a type of national wrestling). In this way they renew the traditions of Ukrainian fighting and attract young people interested in national history.

Interculture :2D

Students:

Rosaria Troncone,Ciro Mormile,Francesco Romano,Chiara Fusco,Gabriele De Rosa,Emmanuele Avolio

Teacher: Prof.Anna Mereu